Storm is Leaving Midwest

Still Ice on Some Highways; Patrol Advises Motorists To Use Chains

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The weather handed the midlands a one-two punch today, following up a snow that virtually paralyzed some areas with bitter cold.

The Kansas City area was the hardest hit by the snow storm which began before dawn yesterday and ended shortly before midnight. The weather bureau recorded eight inches of snow.

Public and parochial schools in both Kansas City, Kas., and Kansas City, Mo., were closed today. The highway patrol reported that some highways in northwest and central Missouri were virtually impassable.

Hotels were jammed with storm-bound visitors and extra cots were set up in dining rooms and guest rooms.

Airlines Back to Normal

Commercial airline schedules returned to normal after some delays because of the weather. Some buses and trains were delayed also.

The storm was rapidly moving northeastward out of the midwest early today although it still was snowing in parts of Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Temperatures headed downward over much of the mid-continent.

The coldest weather of the winter season appeared in prospect for the northern plains and north central states for the next couple of days. The cold wave accompanied by strong northerly winds swept southward through the northern plains and across the Mississippi valley.

To New Lows

The mercury plunged to new low marks for the season in some communities. Low marks included 25 below at Minot and Pembina, N. D.; 20 at Miles City, Mont.; 15 at Willmar, Minn., and 10 at Minneapolis.

The high reading forecast for North Dakota today was 5 to 15 below and lows of 20 to 30 below were predicted tonight. Temperatures of near zero are expected to hit Chicago tonight. Powdery snow was falling at Springfield, Mo., although the sun was shining brightly there today. Limbs and communication and power wires were coated with ice but the situation was not serious. Southwest Missouri college was closed today because it was without power. Two other schools in the Springfield area also were closed.

Ice on Springfield

The streets and highways in the Springfield area were spotted with ice but most of it was disappearing through sublimation—ice changing to vapor in the extremely dry air. The snow there this morning was 12 above.

At Hannibal in eastern Missouri there were 5 1/2 inches of snow and sleet. Maintenance crews kept all roads open.

Despite a six-inch snow all the main highways around Maryville were open today and schools were operating. C. R. Keyes, highway maintenance superintendent there, said snow plows were out all night. Traffic was light in that area and no accidents were reported. School buses in Nodaway county were able to make their routes today.

Capt. O. L. Viets of the Missouri State Highway patrol reported a thin layer of packed snow on highways that snow plows could not reach.

Use Chains
"I would advise all motorists to use chains," he said.

On U. S. highway 40 near Booneville, driving was hampered by what the highway patrol called a "solid sheet of ice." This

Four Inches of Snow Fell in City Tuesday

Temperature Four Degrees Above This A. M.; Sun Came Out

Snow that started falling at a very early hour Tuesday morning ceased after dark that night, having reached a depth of four inches.

This morning the streets were soon worn hard and smooth traffic packed down the snow. Men of the city street department were out trying to clear the streets and men with snow shovels, or just shovels, were everywhere getting it off the sidewalks before it became too hard to remove. One neighborhood is grateful to a man who takes out his snow plow every time it snows and goes for two blocks in each direction cleaning a path along the sidewalk. The man is J. Ross Kindred, who several years ago rigged himself up a little snow plow that runs with a motor. He decided not only to clean his own walks but also the walks of his neighbors. Before 8:00 o'clock this morning he was out, all bundled up, and pushing his little snow plow over the neighborhood.

Schools Open

Schools are all open today as usual and things are about on normal schedule.

The lagoon at the park still does not provide skating. Although it was cold enough this morning to freeze it the snow covering prevents it from being good for skating. There is a danger that the warmth of the snow would weaken the ice in spots beneath.

The temperature was 4 degrees above zero.

Truman Signs Pay Raise Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(AP)—President Truman today signed a bill raising his own pay from $75,000 to $100,000 and increasing his expense allowances by $50,000.

The legislation also raises the pay of Vice President-elect Barkley and Speaker Rayburn from $20,000 to $30,000 a year and allows each of them $10,000 for expenses.

The White House pointed out that the new $50,000 expense allowance for the President requires no accounting. The $40,000 he now receives is tax free like the new fund, but the President has to account for expenditures under it.

The expense allowances for the speaker and vice president also may be used without accounting.

Ends up Where he Started, in Hospital

NEVADA, Mo., Jan. 19.—(AP)—George Gust ended yesterday just where he started—in a hospital.

Gust was on his way home yesterday from the hospital where he underwent a minor operation Monday.

But the taxicab in which he was riding hit a slick spot and skidded into a city bus.

Gus was taken back to the hospital for treatment of shock, bruises and possible rib fractures.

Wins Gas Rate Increase

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The Macon Gas company won a $5.59 annual rate increase from the Missouri Public Service Commission today. It amounts to 15.31 per cent based on gross revenue for the year ended last Oct. 31.

The new rates, effective Jan. 28, do not include a fuel adjustment clause as requested by the company. The commission said it saw no reason to change its policy of not allowing fuel adjustment clauses in the residential field.

$88,500 Cash Found Under Culvert

Waukesha, Wis., Jan. 19.—(AP)—

The $88,500 in currency stolen from a bank's mail shipment last Thursday was found yesterday stuffed under a culvert in Frame park.

Postal Inspector E. J. Holmes said the money, still in the bag in which it was shipped by the Waukesha National Bank, was located on an anonymous telephone tip to the Waukesha police.

He said the tip came yesterday afternoon and that apparently the contents of the bag were undisputed.

All of the money was in useable condition, bank officials said. The currency, en route to a Chicago bank, disappeared on the way to the depot. The empty mail bag in which it was wrapped was found by hunters on Friday.

Bill Designed To Help Voters Is Introduced

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 19.—(AP)—Rep. B. H. Rucker (D) of Phelps county, yesterday introduced in the Missouri House a bill designed to allow Missourians anywhere in the world to vote in elections.

The bill also would permit persons who are too ill to go to the polls to cast an absentee ballot. Except for members of the armed forces, a citizen must now be in the state on election day if he wishes to cast his ballot. The sick must go to the polls to vote.

Seven other bills were introduced yesterday.

Rep. Rucker and T. W. Dempsey (D) of St. Francois county, introduced a bill that would increase pensions for the blind from $35 to $40 a month.

Suggests Name For Hospital
Reps. W. D. Cruce of Cedar county and Erloy C. Kehr of Warren county, Republicans, offered a bill to name the Mt. Vernon tuberculosis sanatorium "The James Stewart Memorial Sanatorium."

The late James Stewart was a former head of the state health department and a member of the general assembly in 1905 when he introduced the bill calling for the sanatorium. He died last year.

One of the perennial bills was back yesterday. It would set up a Negro Agricultural and Vocational school in southeastern Missouri.

It was offered by Reps. T. A. Penman (D) of New Madrid county, J. T. Buckley (D) of Pemiscot county and Kelly Jackson (D) of Mississippi county.

Another of the perennials was a measure by Rep. Floyd L. Snyder (D) of Jackson county to name a state song—the "Missouri Waltz."

Both bills were introduced at the session last year.

Quit 'Off-Duty' Jobs Or Fire Department

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 19.—(AP)—Chief J. W. Smyth today gave city firemen a choice of quitting "off-duty" jobs or the fire department. He acted after he learned a fireman was driving a taxicab on days off. Smyth said double jobs were permitted during wartime, when help was scarce, but "times have changed."

Resolution On Tie Vote

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Investigation of the tie vote for state representative in Lafayette county in the general election was called for by a resolution introduced in the Missouri house today.

Rep. C. P. Turley (D) of Carter county, majority floor leader, asked that action on the resolution be deferred until next Tuesday so as not to "crowd it or rush anything through." Turley offered the resolution.

The resolution points out that no person was certified for the office from Lafayette county because of the tie vote.

Statements of Money Spent In Campaigns

Republicans Had More to Battle For Control Congress

By Howard Dobson

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Republican House and Senate campaign committees, reports showed today, spent more than 14 times as much as the corresponding Democratic groups last fall in the battle for control of Congress.

And the Democrats won. Final 1948 financial statements of the House and Senate campaign committees of the two parties shed light on this phase of political finances. They showed that during the year the Republicans gathered $962,201 from contributions and spent $926,371 on their candidates. The Democrats took in $67,027 and spent $64,824.

This is what they got for their money: Democrats took nine senate seats away from Republicans for a 54-42 edge, and won 75 Republican House seats for a margin there of 262 to 171—not counting one vacancy in a usually Democratic New York district.

The committee reports, which were filed with Congress, do not include money collected and spent by the candidates themselves or by local or national groups—like labor unions—not connected with the Republican or Democratic parties. These make separate reports on their campaign expenses.

The Republican senatorial campaign committee made this report: $534,107 received; $500,254 spent. Its Democratic counterpart received little more than one-tenth as much—$54,825—for senatorial campaigns and spent $52,911 of it.

The Republican committee handling funds for GOP House candidates took in $428,094 during the year and reported total expenses of $426,117. Against the Democratic House campaign committee stacked only $12,202 in receipts and $11,913 in expenses.

Pipeline Fire

BATESVILLE, Ind., Jan. 19.—(AP)—Flames still leaped 20 feet high from the Big Inch pipeline at nearby Morris today, nine hours after natural gas in the artery caught fire.

But the fire was under control, said a spokesman for the Texas Eastern Transmission corporation, operator of the Big Inch and the Little Inch lines.

The sale price for the two-year-old bull, Bir Reality 2nd, was $18,000, which was $3,000 more than the top price in last year's Hereford sale.

18,000 For Hereford Bull

DENVER, Jan. 19.—(AP)—E. B. Shawver, Wichita, Kas., yesterday purchased the Reserve Champion Hereford bull of the 1949 National Western stock show from Charles Dianchi, Macon, Mo.

The sale price for the two-year-old bull, Bir Reality 2nd, was $18,000, which was $3,000 more than the top price in last year's Hereford sale.

Owning an unpublished Mark Twain manuscript doesn't give the owner the right to publish it. So ruled the appellate division of the state supreme court in a decision made public yesterday.

The decision, reversing an earlier supreme court ruling, was made on an appeal by the trustees of the estate of the noted American author.

The trustees, including a daughter, Mrs. Clara Clemens Samous, sought to prevent publication of "A Murder, A Mystery And A Marriage," written by Twain in 1876 and now owned by Lew D. Feldman and Allan Hyman.

Ten Killed, 19 Injured in Crash at Sea

Tanker And Coast Guard Cutter Hit in Thick Fog

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Ten Coast Guardsmen were killed and at least 19 injured today in the fiery crash of a Coast Guard cutter and a tanker in thick fog off the New Jersey coast.

Many of their shipmates courageously stayed aboard the flaming cutter Eastwind to fight and bring under control the fire that threatened the ship's ammunition stores. Seventy-eight uninjured survivors of the crash were taken aboard another vessel.

The collision occurred about 60 miles southeast of Barnegat light vessel.

The 504-foot tanker Gulfstream, which collided with the Eastwind, reported she was proceeding to New York under her own power with an uninjured crew of 42. Her bow was damaged.

Helped Fight Flames

The freighter Republic of Columbia came alongside the Eastwind and crewmen went aboard to help the cutter fight the flames. The cutter's crew fought the flames, the Coast Guard reported.

The collision occurred about 4:30 a. m. (EST). At 11:10 a. m. (EST) the skipper of a rescue vessel standing by reported the flames were under control.

The S. S. Suzanne, one of several rescue vessels which rushed to the scene through the fog, took 17 injured Coast Guardsmen aboard and rushed to New York. Her skipper, Capt. Frank Boyer, of Baltimore, said five were badly burned and the others suffered minor burns.

Another Rescue Ship

Another rescue ship, the S. S. Junior, skippered by Capt. George Grant of New York, said she had 17 survivors aboard, two of them injured.

The ten dead were reported by the Coast Guard. The Eastwind, in the ice-breaking service normally carries a crew of about 120.

Meanwhile, the Coast Guard said a Navy fighter plane speeding to the scene crashed two miles off Little Macopinog Inlet, N. C. A Coast Guard helicopter flying toward the burning Eastwind was diverted to hunt for the Navy plane. Another Coast Guard helicopter took off for the Eastwind.

Hit On Starboard Side

The Coast Guard said the Eastwind was hit on the starboard side opposite the chief petty officer's quarters.

The crash tore the cutter so that her ammunition magazines were exposed and firefighters battled in momentary peril of explosion, the Coast Guard said.

The Eastwind, whose home port is Boston, was bound for Curtis Bay, Md., when the collision occurred. Her skipper is John A. Glynn.

The Gulfstream, owned by the Gulf Oil Corp., left Philadelphia last night for Kuwait, Persia and other Persian Gulf ports without cargo. Her skipper is Capt. Henry G. Coyle, of Maywood, N. J.

Honor to Former County Resident

FULTON, Mo., Jan. 19.—(AP)—A former Callaway resident is honored last night at the 44th annual Kingdom of Callaway supper.

Jerry N. Koonz, area manager for Sinclair Refining company, Jacksonville, Fla., received the honor given annually to a former resident of the county, who has "made good."

The supper was started in 1905 as a civic club dinner and has about 700 persons attended.

Dinner was served at five churches and a cafe, and guests later met at the high school for the annual program.

Daniel R. Blount of the International Shoe Company public relations department, St. Louis, was the featured speaker.

Suing Comedian For Divorce

FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Comedian Hugh Herbert is being sued for divorce.

The petition filed here yesterday by Mrs. Rose Herbert said the stage and screen actor was "unkind and harsh" to her for a year before they separated Dec. 13, 1947.

They were married in Detroit in 1917 and have no children. Mrs. Herbert's petition said she resumed her residence here after the separation. Court approval of a property settlement reached last September was asked.

Wife Charged With Felonious Assault

ST. CHARLES, Mo., Jan. 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Goldie Holt was charged with felonious assault with intent to kill yesterday after she placed her hand on a Bible, pulled the trigger of a revolver and seriously wounded her husband.

Prosecuting Attorney H. K. Stumberg said the 44-year-old housewife was arrested when she appeared at the Wabash passenger station Monday night, handed the gun to the night agent, and said "a witch shot my husband." Holt, a railroad section hand, was shot twice.

St. Charles County Sheriff Plackmeyer said Mrs. Holt had been under medical observation since she disappeared from her home last February.

Inaugural Crowd Tops

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Truman's inauguration will be witnessed by the greatest crowd in Washington's history. Officials estimate 1,000,000 persons will line the route of the inaugural parade, including 750,000 from out-of-town.

And for the first time in history, a television audience of 25,000,000 from the east coast to the Mississippi valley will witness the proceedings, thanks to the newly installed coaxial cable which connects television stations.

Nationalists In China Ask Peace Parley

Chiang's Armies Can Offer Only Token Battle

By the Associated Press

Nationalist China asked the conquering Communists today for a cease fire and immediate peace negotiations. The armies of President Chiang Kai-shek have been battered so thoroughly, it seemed unlikely they could offer much more than token battle.

The action was by the executive Yuan, which is controlled by Chiang. It may negotiate for peace, but the legislative Yuan must approve its decisions.

NANKING, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Foreign correspondents in Peiping, anxiously inquiring about Nanking peace efforts, said in long distance telephone conversation tonight that Red shells were still falling on the city.

"The government, in deference to the general wishes of the people for an early realization of peace, hereby makes known its desire for both government and Communist forces to cease fire unconditionally and immediately for both sides to appoint delegates to start peace negotiations," the executive Yuan said in a statement.

Reds Triumphant
Whether the Communists, who are aflame with triumph after triumph over Chiang's inept generals and troops, would agree to talk peace remained to be seen.

The answer seemed to lie in how the Communists might be treated by capturing Manchuria and virtually all north China.

Communist leader Mao Tse-tung issued a radio ultimatum last week calling in effect for total surrender of the Chiang government.

China has been conquered many times in the past, and invariably has swallowed her conquerors. Many in Washington and other world capitals have expressed belief the Communists never can actually take control of the docile peasants and coolies who are individualists and form the great bulk of the population.

State Moving Fast
Foreign diplomats in Nanking were informed that the Chiang government will start moving south to Canton Friday. Most embassies wanted to stay at Nanking, which is in immediate peril of capture by the Communists.

The older capital of Peiping is surrounded by Reds and separate peace talks are on there.

A British government source said Britain will recognize Israel if the United States joins in a British plan to guarantee peace in the Middle East.

British policy on Palestine appeared to be undergoing a drastic change. The labor government's relations with the United States. It is a target of Conservative opposition and of dissidents within its own ranks.

Delay Conservation Commission Meet

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Bad weather forced postponement of today's state conservation commission meeting until Feb. 1. The delay was decided on last night, commission spokesmen said, and delegations were notified of the change.

Southwestern Missouri fishermen had planned to send a group to protest two changes in the 1949 regulations. Last week they said they had more than 8,000 signatures of petitions objecting to the new rules.

They take exception to one barring fishing within 75 yards of dams and another closing lake fishing for jack salmon and bass to May 30, instead of March 15 as formerly.

Resignation Submitted

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Howard Bruce, deputy economic cooperation administrator, said today he has submitted his resignation to President Truman effective Jan. 31.

Bruce said he wrote the letter of resignation last November, and it had nothing to do with charges he made that excessive shipments of aluminum and lead scrap were being made to the United States from Marshall plan countries.

Inaugural News In Brief

"It was like home-coming week at the station in Washington Tuesday morning when the special trains from Missouri arrived," said D. Kelly Scruton, member of the Democrat-Capital news staff, in a telephone call from that city to another staff member Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Scruton arrived in Washington last Saturday morning and are located at the Raleigh hotel, where they have been entertaining friends from Sedalia now living in Washington. Among them were Mrs. Ruth Wood Hartley and James Giokaris.

"Mayor Bagby is nicely located in a hotel room," he said, "as are the Frank Hayes." Bagby is going to the Truman-Barkley dinner tonight and the Hayes' are also going out to some 'function' for the evening," he added. "Their baggage was all here before they arrived."

The Scrutons attended the Missouri Society's party last Saturday night, meeting President Truman, Secretary John Snyder, and others who wished to be remembered to the Sedalia friends.

The Sedalians have invitations to the outstanding events of the week, including the inaugural ball, Mayor Bagby, a colonel on Governor Forrest Smith's staff, will participate in the inaugural parade.

"We are not forgetting to 'plug' for the opening of the Sedalia Army Air Field," Scruton concluded.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The folks from President Truman's home state of Missouri were applauded here last night at the Truman-Barkley dinner.

The Missourians stood and were applauded when the state song of Missouri was played. The state song of Kentucky was played next, and then that of Oklahoma.

Once during the songs the delegation from Independence, Mo., was requested to stand and was applauded.

Governor Turner of Oklahoma sat between the President and Barkley at the dinner. The flying L barbershop quartet from Oklahoma sang "Oklahoma Home Paradise," the music and words of which were written by the Oklahoma governor.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(AP)—President Truman today received a Bible to be used at his inauguration ceremony tomorrow. He made it on occasion to suggest that the Ten Commandments offer a good program for anyone to follow.

To reporters who watched the presentation ceremony, Mr. Truman commended especially the Tenth Commandment, saying they could "get a lot of good" from study of it.

This commandment reads: "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maid, nor anything that is thy neighbor's."

The Bible is a two-volume reproduction of the Gutenberg Bible which was printed in Germany in the 15th Century and was the first Bible printed from movable type.

Promises to Fight On For World Peace And Fair Deal Laws In United States

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Harry S. Truman took over the capital city today to the echoing strains of "I'm Just Wild About Harry."

The man from Missouri plunged into a gay round of inaugural festivities with a promise to fight on for world peace and for a "fair deal" legislative program at home.

And he asked all Democrats in Congress to cooperate, asserting "I know that is exactly what they are going to do."

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—January is a month when we have come to think of inaugurating presidents and of raising money for children who cannot walk.

In addition to children, newspapermen became so long accustomed to a president who could not walk, that they have been a little slow to realize that the president of the United States can now drop in on his friends on Capitol Hill without the least effort, and can amble in and out of the capitol's entrances as fast as anyone else when he takes the oath of office.

For so many years was it necessary to build long, slanting ramps up inclines in order to avoid steps for the president, that people in Washington became quite accustomed to it and took it for granted.

And during all the years that Franklin Roosevelt was in office, the newspapers, including those hostile to him, said almost nothing about his infirmity. Even in private conversation people did not talk too much about the fact that the president could not walk. They just felt sorry for him and didn't mention it.

Only on his birthday was his infirmity brought home to the public, and then in order to help others stricken with his dread affliction.

An Idea For Truman

Today this column recalls these facts because as Franklin Roosevelt's fourth term running mate,

(Third of a Four-Part Feature)

Almost overnight, Senator Harry S. Truman was raised from relative obscurity to national prominence as chairman of the war investigating committee. So high was its prestige that the granting of funds for its work was almost automatic. After the first appropriation the senate never voted less than $100,000 at a time. Truman's committee became the symbol for honesty in carrying out war contracts.

Before the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1944, Truman turned down suggestions from his friends that he enter his name as candidate for vice president.

"I have the best job any man could have, and I want to stick to it," he said. But Truman was drafted as a compromise candidate, to be Franklin D. Roosevelt's fourth term running mate. Resigning from the war investigating committee, he campaigned vigorously.

Three months after his inauguration, President Roosevelt died. Harry S. Truman, whose formal education ended with high school, a former Missouri farm boy who always worked hard and lived simply, moved into the highest office in the land, faced with a tremendous responsibility.

"Last night the whole weight of the moon and stars and all the planets fell on me," he told reporters. "Please pray for me. I mean that."

In his first speech to Congress, Truman endorsed a world organization to maintain the peace. President Roosevelt had arranged the San Francisco Conference, in which statesmen of 50 nations produced the Charter of the United Nations. He died 13 days before the delegates were to convene, and President Truman carried on in his place.

On his 61st birthday, May 8, 1945, President Truman announced the unconditional surrender of Germany. "For this victory we join in offering our thanks to the Providence which has guided and sustained us through the dark days of adversity," he said. He led the nation in humble thanksgiving and joined in solemn prayers for world peace.

At Potsdam, he conferred with Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin, Prime Minister Winston Churchill, and after the latter's defeat in the British elections, with Prime Minister Clement Attlee. The Big Three discussed a master plan for reconstruction of Europe and for dictating unconditional surrender terms to Japan. Truman's primary objective was to get final agreement on Russia's entry into the war against Japan. The meeting took place from July 17 to August 2, 1945.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, who supervised the war work of American scientists, has revealed that President Truman made his decision to use the atom bomb against Japanese cities while attending the Potsdam Conference. On August 6, 1945, Hiroshima, once Japan's most modern city, was blasted to ruins by an atomic explosion. Three days later half of Nagasaki was reduced to rubble. Next day Japan offered to accept the Potsdam surrender ultimatum.

V-J Day was proclaimed on September 2, the day the Japanese signed unconditional surrender terms aboard the battleship Missouri, anchored in Tokyo Bay. "God's help has brought us this victory," said President Truman. "With His help we will attain peace and prosperity for ourselves and all the world in the years ahead."

For instance, if the president should make a phonograph record of his old favorites, "Missouri Waltz" and "Anchors Aweigh," I predict they would sell in the millions.

Furthermore if daughter Margaret sang to her father's accompaniment, then more millions would accumulate for the infantile paralysis fund.

Ascap Offers Cooperation
To test out the idea, I put it before Fred Albert, head of Ascap (American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers). Albert has written a good many songs himself, including two which sold over two million—"I'll Get By" and Bing Crosby's theme song, "Where the Blue of the Night Meets the Gold of the Day." So he can be considered something of an authority on music. Furthermore, as head of Ascap he is something of an authority on the sale of records.

Fred Albert's reaction was immediate. He volunteered to obtain a waiver of all royalty rights from the authors of Harry Truman's favorites and also offered to pay a good share of the cost of making the records. The only reason he didn't offer to pay all the cost was because he feared the sale would run into so many millions it would bankrupt Ascap.

Anyway, there is an idea—an idea by which one president can help cure the affliction which struck another president. The records could be dedicated: "To a crippled president who helped a crippled nation—From Harry Truman."

Tennessee—Hub of the USA

Eleanor Kefauver, seven-year-old daughter of the senator from Tennessee, believes that all the USA revolves around her daddy's state. At least that was her excuse for inviting all the girls in her class to ride on the Tennessee float in the inaugural parade.

Senator and Mrs. Kefauver did not know about their daughter's hospitality until one of the mothers called up and asked what her little girl was supposed to wear in the parade. Whereupon Mrs. Kefauver asked Eleanor about it.

Eleanor explained that since the Tennessee float depicted a garden scene there was no reason why a crowd of little girls should not be seen in the garden. Furthermore, added Eleanor: "All the girls in my class have some connection with Tennessee."

"Why what about Evelyn Ellender," remonstrated Mrs. Kefauver, "she comes from South America."

"Yes, but she had to come through Tennessee to get to Washington."

In the end, Eleanor was overruled. She herself will ride on the Tennessee float, along with one little girl from every Tennessee congressman's family. But her schoolmates were ruled out and Mrs. Kefauver has been busy calling up their mothers to explain. She doesn't know exactly how many people Eleanor has invited; so she is still worried for fear some of them may turn up at parade time.

Bing Crosby to CBS Next Fall Is Announced

Third Radio Plum In Talent Raid On Rival Networks

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 19.—(P)—Bing Crosby moves to CBS next fall.

The "Ol' Groaner" is the third prize radio plum picked by Columbia Broadcasting System in its talent raid on rival networks. They've snatched him from American Broadcasting Co., less than a month after Jack Benny switched from National Broadcasting Co. to CBS and a few months since Amos 'n' Andy moved from NBC to CBS.

A sudden announcement by William S. Paley, CBS board chairman now in Hollywood, said last night that CBS and Crosby have reached an agreement whereby the singer will be heard over CBS beginning next fall and for "an extended period."

It added that the arrangement covers radio and television shows, but no immediate television appearances are planned.

No Details
Paley gave no details as to contract or financial arrangements. CBS spokesmen said they were in the dark, too. Presumably the question of whether Bing will be moved from his long-standing Wednesday night spot on the air would be up to his next sponsor, whoever that may be.

Whether Crosby will continue to record his show, as he has done with ABC, or return to live broadcasts is another question so far unanswered.

A Fast Deal
Radio row speculated that Paley had a chance to get Crosby, made a fast deal while the opportunity was there and is leaving details for later consideration.

The announcement came the same day the latest Hooper ratings, announced in New York, showed that CBS now has seven places in the top 15 Hooper-rated programs, NBC holding five and ABC three.

ABC's Walter Winchell tops the list, CBS' Jack Benny and Radio Theater are second and third, respectively, and NBC's Fibber McGee and Molly is fourth.

Sunday night is a fiercely competitive one, with CBS featuring Benny, Amos 'n' Andy, Spike Jones and Sam Spade against NBC's Horace Heidt, Ozzie and Harriet, Phil Harris and Alice Faye and Fred Allen, and ABC's Whelan.

Thursday A Strong Night
Tuesday night is a strong NBC night with Alan Young, Bob Hope, Fibber and Molly and People are Funny in succession.

Wednesday night has been a potent ABC night with Groucho Marx, Milton Berle, Crosby and Meredith Willson aired against NBC competition as Duffy's Tavern, Gildersleeve and Mr. District Attorney and CBS' Music Hall and Dr. Christian.

If Crosby stays on Wednesday nights for CBS it obviously will strengthen that network against ABC competition. And if he goes on one of the other hotly competitive nights it will aid CBS' popularity fight with NBC.

With CBS Before
CBS quoted Crosby, who has a terrific movie radio fan following, as saying "I look forward with great pleasure to my return to the network which gave me my start in radio."

He was with CBS early in his career in the 1930s, later moving to NBC and switching to ABC three years ago.

Another top entertainer who might go to CBS is Edgar Bergen. He left NBC in December and said he was retiring from the air until next fall. It has been strongly rumored in the trade that when he brings Charley McCarthy back on the air it will be over CBS.

Important Events In The World News

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 19.—(P)—A top aide of John L. Lewis said today that organized labor would complete repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act "and doesn't want it re-enacted under some other name."

PARIS, Jan. 19.—(P)—American, British and Dutch delegates to the world federation of trade unions executive board walked out today. They said they would have nothing further to do with WFTU which they charged had become a Communist propaganda agency.

The formal walkout came after a vote on a motion by the British trades union council that WFTU activities be suspended for a year pending reorganization.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—(P)—A government source said today Britain will recognize Israel if the United States joins in a British plan to guarantee peace in the middle east.

Britain is said to have made new and drastic changes in her Holy Land policy in the middle east plan which she is proposing to the United States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(P)—The British embassy described as "absolute nonsense" today reports published in London that Britain has proposed to the United States a new plan for settlement of the Palestine crisis.

The reports said Sir Oliver Franks, the British ambassador, presented the plan to Undersecretary of State Lovett in a meeting at the State Department yesterday.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—(P)—France is ready to extend de facto (infact) recognition to Israel, the government announced today.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(P)—Undersecretary of State Lovett called on the Russians today for action—rather than the mere words of Communist leaders outside the USSR—to show that they seriously want better relations.

His news conference comments were directed at recent statements by Palmiro Togliatti in Italy and Marcel Cachin in France, among others.

At Carthage the temperature dropped to 11 this morning, but a bright sun was expected to melt part of the ice coat on streets and highways. The city had half an inch of sleet yesterday, followed by about half an inch of snow.

Hungry Because 'He Hadn't Et Yet'

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19.—(P)—Detective J. Voyle Parker, Jr., said he'd better investigate the bulges in the clothing of a man who told him "I'm powerful hungry and a little jingling money would fix me up."

"I found his pockets loaded with fish and ham sandwiches," Parker told Magistrate W. M. K. McDiarmid yesterday.

The magistrate asked George Thomas, 37, why he was "powerful hungry" when his pockets were stuffed with food.

"I hadn't et 'em yet," was the answer. McDiarmid gave him 30 days to satisfy his hunger.

Now Silence From Wallace Who Ran For President

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(P)—Tomorrow would have been a great day for Henry Wallace—remember him?—if things had been different.

It would have been his inauguration day, if he had won when he ran for president last November.

But he lost. And the man he tried so hard to crush, Harry S. Truman, will take the Presidential oath instead.

Wallace more than lost. He was drowned in a shattering defeat. And since then he has been unusually quiet.

Yet, he had always been a fairly talkative man. Talking, talking, talking. Now the silence.

I wondered what had happened to him. And last night I called him at his farm in Westchester county, N. Y.

No Interviews
I had a long list of questions to ask him, but he said "I'm not giving interviews."

I told him I'd like an answer to a couple of questions and I asked him if he intended to stay in politics. "Sure," he said.

I asked him if he felt disappointed about the small vote he got in the election and he said "I'm not giving interviews."

I asked him if he thought the Progressive party, which ran him for President, would stay in business.

And he said "It's needed more than ever." And then he said he wasn't giving interviews, and that was the end of it.

I thought his voice sounded strained when he spoke, but I can't be sure of that.

I'd still like to know what future Wallace thinks there is for him or his party.

Small Number of Votes
He got only 1,156,000 votes out of the 48,690,000 votes cast last November.

Professional politicians, with no sympathy for Wallace, thought before the election he might get at least 5,000,000 votes.

The smallness of the Wallace vote surprised everyone and must have surprised him, too, but one thing is sure:

If Wallace had been able to pull 5,000,000 votes from Mr. Truman, Wallace wouldn't have won, but neither would Mr. Truman, and Governor Dewey would be taking the Presidential oath tomorrow.

Every time Wallace has suffered a staggering defeat in a great climax of his life, at first it seemed like a nudge toward oblivion, but he came back.

Brushed Him Aside
In 1944, after four years with him in the vice presidency, the Democrats wouldn't let him have the job again. They brushed him aside and gave it to Senator Truman, with President Roosevelt's blessing.

Wallace performed his last act as vice president by swearing in Senator Truman as his successor.

What did the future hold for Wallace then? Mr. Roosevelt grinned and told a news conference Henry wouldn't starve.

Sure enough, shortly afterwards, he gave the job of secretary of commerce to Wallace.

In three months Mr. Roosevelt was dead, and Mr. Truman went into the White House—a job that Democrats had only picked him for vice president.

Fired From Cabinet
In another year Mr. Truman fired him from the cabinet for making a Madison Square Garden speech attacking this country's foreign policy.

Gradually, then, Wallace became Mr. Truman's severest critic and finally ran for the presidency, hoping to defeat him.

At this moment Wallace seems further out in left field than he ever was before after his big climaxes. Where can he go now? What can he do? He is not getting younger. He's 60.

If the election blow did any damage to his spirit, he's keeping it to himself, so far. But he won't starve. He has money.

Inquiry Into Cause of Death

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 19.—(P)—The cause of the death of Mrs. Amy Howell, 36-year-old waitress, will not be determined for about five weeks pending a chemical analysis of the contents of her stomach.

Coroner Patrick Taylor said today Mrs. Howell's body was found yesterday in the rear seat of her automobile parked in front of her home. A post-mortem examination was negative. There were minor lacerations and abrasions on her scalp, knees and ankles.

Police Capt. John Buck said Mrs. Howell became intoxicated in a tavern late Monday night and was taken home at the request of the bartender by two men customers. They said Mrs. Howell fell and injured herself as they crossed some streetcar tracks and that they put her in her automobile.

They said Mrs. Howell's husband, also intoxicated, was in the front seat.

Provision is Ruled Illegal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(P)—A national labor relations board examiner ruled today that the union shop provision of the contract between soft coal operators and John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers is illegal.

The legality of the one year agreement, made last July 1, was challenged by U. S. Steel corporation and other steel interests who operate "captive" mines supplying coal to the steel mills.

A brief strike over the union shop provision shut down the steel company mines last July.

The walkout ended after Federal Judge Alan Goldsborough arranged for a continuance of work until the courts had opportunity to pass on the issue.

The Taft-Hartley act prohibits employers from making a union shop agreement with employees without a majority vote of those workers.

The ruling that the union shop clause is illegal was given by Examiner William R. Ringer. It must be reviewed by the five-man national labor relations board if either side challenges it.

Young Mother Leaps to Death

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—(P)—A young mother leaped to her death from a window of her flame-enveloped third floor apartment today, after dropping her two children into the arms of a neighbor.

Mrs. Mary Woo, 34, an expectant mother, died shortly after she was admitted to a hospital. Efforts to save the life of her unborn child failed.

But Senator Brewster (R-Me) told a reporter the fact that some Democrats weren't willing to follow their leaders "definitely indicates that the senate balance of power resides with men not subject to administration control."

Administration Democrats generally pooh-poohed the idea that any coalition is in the making.

Brooder House, 200 Chickens Burned

Fire destroyed a 20x20 brooder house, located in the 1700 block on West Main street, and about 200 chickens, weighing between one and two pounds, early this morning. The building is owned by the Bagby Poultry company.

The fire companies were notified of the fire at 2:51 o'clock this morning, but the building was already destroyed, before the firemen's arrival. The cause of the blaze is unknown. Fire Chief John Luck was told that a man fired the stove inside the brooder around midnight, and that everything was all right at that time.

Loss to the building was estimated at $400.

Two Collisions; Only Slight Damage

Two collisions occurred inside the city limits this morning, causing slight damage to cars.

At 8:05 o'clock, a 1949 Ford sedan, driven by Homer Ashbrook, 802 East Ninth street, owned by the Yellow Cab company, and a 1936 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Robert L. Beaman, 1514 South Osage avenue, collided at Second street and Ohio avenue.

The other collision was at Third street and Osage avenue at 10:12 o'clock. Slight damage occurred when J. M. Lane, La Monte, driving a 1938 Chevrolet coupe, and Pearl Stuart, 218 South Quincy avenue, driving a 1940 Plymouth sedan, collided.

Drivers settled damages at the scene between themselves.

Republicans Show Strength

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(P)—A minor senate defeat over agricultural taxes cast the shadow of a Republican-Dixie Democratic coalition on the doorstep of the Truman administration today.

With the aid of six Democrats—mostly from the south—Republicans won their first test of strength yesterday in a surprising 47 to 44 vote which killed a bill exempting inaugural parade and ball tickets from excise taxes.

The bill was every sign that the outcome was almost as surprising to the minority members as it was to the democratic leaders who had expected to put through the measure without trouble.

But Senator Brewster (R-Me) told a reporter the fact that some Democrats weren't willing to follow their leaders "definitely indicates that the senate balance of power resides with men not subject to administration control."

Administration Democrats generally pooh-poohed the idea that any coalition is in the making.

Actress Weds Sixth Time

FORT LEE, N. J., Jan. 19.—(P)—Film Actress Arlene Judge was married last night for the sixth time. Her husband is George Ross of New York, an insurance executive.

Mayor Charles Heft performed the ceremony in this one-time home of early movie-making.

Her wedding to Ross first was planned for last May 4, but was postponed.

Miss Judge was divorced last April from Henry J. (Bob) Topping, in plate heir. He then married Movie Star Lana Turner.

Miss Judge received a $100,000 cash settlement from Topping in Bridgeport, Conn.

Her earlier husbands were Topping's brother, Dan, New York sportsman; Wesley Ruggles, movie director; Vincent Morgan Ryan of New York and Chicago, and RAF Officer James R. Adams.

'Insincere' Says The Judge

MOLINE, Ill., Jan. 19.—(P)—A mother and daughter whose attempts to halt slot machine gambling in Rock Island county were termed "insincere" were fined $400 and costs as a result of their "raid" of a club here last December 20.

"I doubt your sincerity in your gambling crusade," Magistrate Ralph Stephenson told Mrs. Elaine Van Meulebroek and her daughter, Marie, 26, yesterday in finding them guilty of trespassing and disturbing the peace. The charges were in connection with the raid on the East End Bolders' club.

The mother and daughter last fall had caused the arrests and fining of several tavern owners on charges of harboring slot machines.

They started their anti-gambling drive after they had failed to solicit funds from saloon keepers for a proposed home for homeless animals.

Fayette-Drury Had Tie Game

FAYETTE, Mo., Jan. 19.—(P)—The basketball teams of Central and Drury colleges settled their battle last night as a tie.
The scoreboard showed that Drury won the Missouri College Athletic Union game by a count of 44 to 43. But that was before one of the two official scorers discovered that a free throw had not been credited in the book to Gil Georgeff of Central.
That correction made the teams even-Stephen. The officials, after getting the agreement of the coaches, declared the game a tie, 44-44.
By an earlier agreement among MCAU members, games played in the Central gymnasium do not count in the Conference standings anyway. Other members say the Central court is too small.
At any rate, Drury led at half-time, 19-18.
Bill Hanks of Drury registered 13 points. And Gil Georgeff, after being credited with the "lost" point, also tallied 13, sharing honors with Hanks.

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(P)—Billy Southworth, who used a convertible outfield to win the pennant for the Boston Braves last season, plans to follow the same plan in at least one position this season. . . . Billy's idea is to use Jim Russell in left field against left hand pitching and Jeff Heath to take care of right hand flingers. . . . "According to all reports I've had, Russell is physically O. K. again," Southworth explains. "However, I do not intend to burden him by having him play every day." . . . Wisconsin's Don Gehrmann, who'll make his first indoor mile start in the Millrose meet Jan. 29, looks like the best bet against the current foreign foot-racing invasion. Less than four weeks after he finished his cross country campaign, Don ran a 4:08.5 over the 12-lap clay track at Madison. That's seven seconds faster than Chuck Fenske or Wally Mehl ever made on that track.

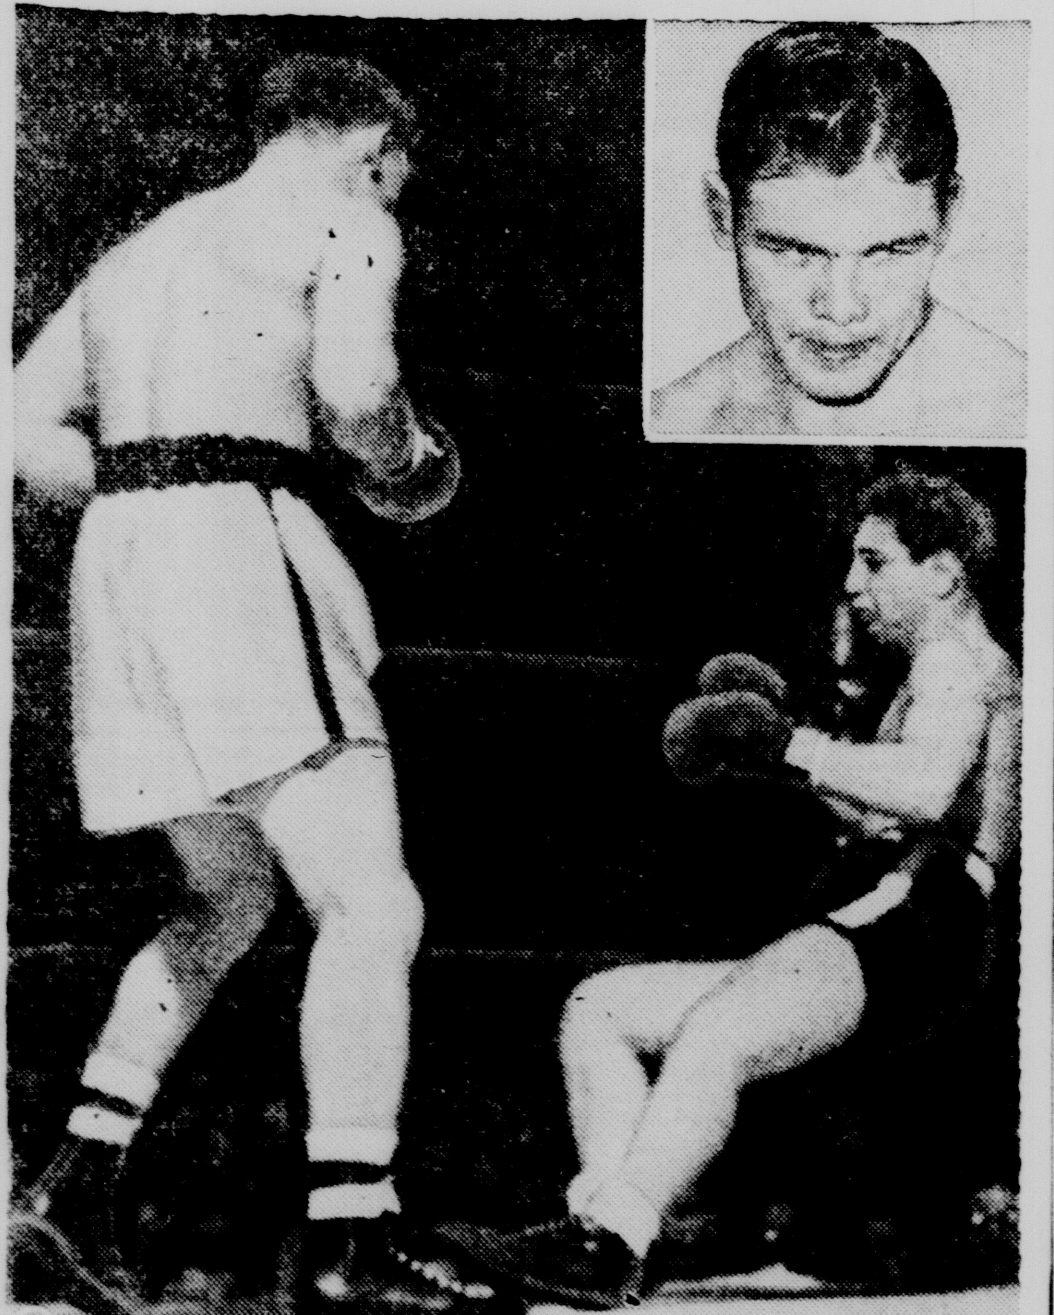

Broader Viewpoint
Around New Orleans they're still telling about one incident during Herman Hickman's recent visit there. . . . A local sports writer spotted Herman in a celebrated restaurant and told a colleague: "That's Hickman, the Yale coach, over there sitting between those two other guys." . . . The second scribe conducted a tour of investigation and returned to report: "Those aren't two other guys sitting beside Hickman; they're his own shoulders. I met both of them."

Ray Meyer, DePaul basketball coach, figures that Jack Phelan really earned the berth as regular center. Jack started out as sub for George Miklan, went into service and came back to sub for Eddie Miklan. . . . "He was always behind the Miklans," says Ray. . . . Maybe he should try radio when he graduates.

To Devote Entire Time To Football Team

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 19.—(P)—The task of turning out a winning football team is a full-time proposition, so Frank Leahy will quit his job as athletic director at Notre Dame this year.
But the nation's winningest grid coach will stay on at South Bend as head coach of football. And reports that he will accept a position as coach of the Washington Redskins, or any other professional team, are "absolutely false," he said here last night.
Ed (Moose) Krause, line coach, head basketball coach and assistant athletic director at Notre Dame, probably will fall heir to the job of athletic director, Leahy said.

Western Ky. Wins Again

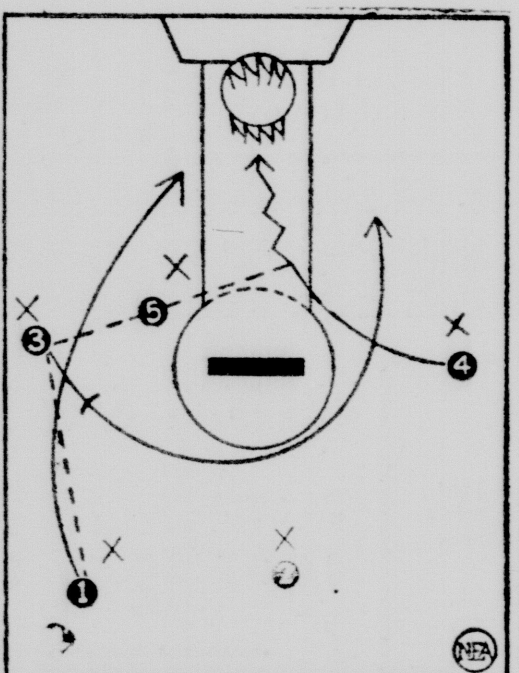

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(P)—Western Kentucky, ranked third nationally behind St. Louis and Kentucky in the Associated Press Collegiate Basketball poll, won its 13th straight game last night.
One of the country's five undefeated major quintets, Western Kentucky enjoyed a 78 to 51 romp against Memphis State.
Coach Ed Diddle's team was the only one of the top ten ranking teams to take the floor last night. Among the second ten Chicago Loyola (No. 12) Wallopped Marquette, 56-41; Cincinnati (No. 13) trimmed Miami of Ohio, 46-36; Holy Cross (No. 14) licked Manhattan, 65-54; and Butler (No. 19) dropped a 60-58 thriller to Notre Dame on Martin O'Connor's last minute field goal.
Holy Cross' triumph came before 15,331 at Madison Square Garden and followed DePaul's 81 to 58 victory over St. Johns of Brooklyn in the first game of a doubleheader.
Texas threw the Southwest conference race into a wideopen scramble by beating Baylor, defending champions, 40-37. Texas, Baylor, Rice and Arkansas each have lost one league game now.

Hope For Peace Is Far From Dead

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—(P)—Just when the football olive branch appeared to be withering a prominent executive of the All American Conference declared today that "the hope for peace is far from dead."
The informant, refusing to be quoted by name, said that Baltimore is still the key to compromise.
"The AAC will not go for anything that won't guarantee Baltimore's continuance," he said.
"But now there is something hopeful about the picture and developments soon may be interesting."
The well informed source indicated that a two-league setup with seven teams in each may be the final blueprint.
AAC club owners today continued a secret parley which opened yesterday.

One breaks down the outside of the court while three continues on around on the inside. Five fakes the obvious pass to one. Four breaks around behind three, takes a bounce pass from five, and dribbles in for a shot. A close cross between three and four makes it difficult for their defensive opponents to switch. The play leaves four men under the basket for rebounds. Two stays back on defense.

Hal Boyle Says

NEW YORK—(P)—Once upon a time there was a serious young man named George.

George was the star student in a college class in "world population—its cause and cure."

Most of the students took the course because it was an easy way to get three hours' credit toward a degree. But not George. He was really worried about world population.

When the professor, a genteel old bachelor, warned that the earth was getting over crowded with its 2,250,000,000 people, most of the class yawned. George sighed. He knew that every ten years there were 200,000,000 more people. He fretted because the human race was so careless. It seemed like all they wanted out of life was posterity.

Ill At Ease

One afternoon the old professor held a tea for a few favorite students he felt had learned the difference between Malthus and mated milk. George felt ill at ease at first because he was seated beside a girl named Grace.

George had nothing in particular against Grace. He just distrusted all girls. He felt that in some way they were responsible for the increase in world population—not an entirely unwarranted conclusion.

"If something isn't done to reduce the rate of population growth," he said despondently, "they'll have to hang up a 'Standing Room Only' sign for the human race."

"Why, what a cute way to say it," replied Grace.

George began to thaw. Nobody in his life had ever told him he had said a cute thing.

"It takes 2 1/2 acres to give one person a minimum level of life," George said. "But there are only 4 billion acres of arable land in the world—and there's already 2,250,000,000 people. How can that ever be straightened out?"

"It just shows a complete lack of responsibility," agreed Grace warmly. "There should be more self-control."

George realized here at last was a girl of real intellect.

"Of course, India and China are the biggest problems," he said. "They aren't really countries—they're just giant maternity wards."

"Why, George, how cute," said Grace. And he glowed all over because she had called him by his first name. So he asked to walk her home.

On the way they reached complete agreement. Grace had thought it possible for the world to support adequately a population of 750,000,000. Gently George showed her she was wrong. The right figure, he said, was 500,000,000.

Enough For All

"At that population level," he said, "everybody in the world could have plenty of bread and milk and steak—all the good things of the earth. And there would be no reason for wars, for everyone would have enough."

"We must find some way—gradually, of course—to cut the world population down to a sensible 500,000,000."

"Oh, George," said Grace, "you are so right. It's so unusual today to find a boy who thinks about serious things in life."

And so they were married. That was ten years ago.

Then Triplets

The first year little George, Jr., arrived. His parents thought it was psychologically bad for him to grow up on only child. So at the end of the third year of their marriage the twins arrived—Mable and Melba. And then came tiny Grace Ellen. She was something of a surprise. But nothing like the surprise that came in the seventh year—the triplets, Herman, Harold, and Hansel.

Shortly after the birth of the triplets they got a postcard from their old professor:

"Don't you think you two had better come back for a post-graduate course?"

Both George and Grace thought his academic joke was in distinct bad taste. They no longer were worried about world population problems. They were too busy solving the posterity problems at home.

Hard To Change Habits

Now they are doing all right. George did have to give up his job at the bank—it didn't pay enough. But he went into business for himself, and business is fine. George runs a diaper delivery service. He is saving up money to send his youngest son to college.

"Guess what he told me he wants to be," George told Grace the other day. "He says he wants to be an obstetrician."

"George says such cute things," said Grace.

Moral: Normal people and healthy rabbits find it hard to change their habits.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and to aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Greet President With 'Hi, Harry'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—(P)—President Truman was greeted with "Hi, Harry" by early arrivals for the inauguration ceremonies when he walked from his living quarters in the Blair house to the White House Tuesday afternoon.

About 100 people stood around the neighborhood as the President walked back to the White House after lunch. They waved and greeted him as he strode along with a couple of secret service agents.

A reporter asked him about a report "some of the Communists say they are going to make you change your foreign policy." The President smiled and said:

"They'll have a hard time making me do that, don't you think?"

Meanwhile, the President's physician, Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, pronounced him in excellent physical condition for his four-year term in his own right.

Dr. Stratton D. Brooks Dies

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 19—(P)—Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, 79, educator and De Molay official, collapsed and died of cerebral thrombosis at his home here Tuesday.

Dr. Brooks had been in apparent good health and went daily to his office where he was executive secretary of the Order of De Molay, a post he had held since 1931.

He stayed at home Tuesday because snow covered streets made driving his car difficult. He collapsed shortly after having lunch at his home and died within a few minutes.

Formerly president of the University of Oklahoma and the University of Missouri, Dr. Brooks was a widely known educator.

He headed the University of Oklahoma from 1912 until 1923 when he assumed the presidency of the University of Missouri and served in that post until 1931.

Emergency Fund Is Approved

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 19—(P)—A House committee approved Tuesday an emergency appropriations bill totaling $3,751,757. It would provide funds for money-shy agencies and institutions for the rest of the fiscal year ending next June 30.

Before passing on the measure, however, the committee added $10,000 to it, to pay the expenses of a special 16-member committee seeking a coordinated highway and road program for the state. The members of the committee were named by Gov. Forrest Smith.

Biggest item in the bill was $1,450,000 for welfare, including $100,000 for old age assistance, $375,000 for aid to dependent children, $850,000 for direct relief and $125,000 more for administering the growing welfare program.

For Stricter Law On Drivers

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 19—(P)—The Missouri Municipal League decided Tuesday to support a move for stricter state driver's license law.

The league's board of directors and legislative committee agreed in joint meeting to back proposed legislation providing for testing the driving ability of applicants for licenses.

Another recommendation would give local municipal officials power to suspend licenses of offending drivers for up to one year. Circuit court judges and the administrator of the state law would be the only ones who could revoke a license permanently.

The league also urged more stringent application of assessment laws in order to bring tax assessment values closer to true values of property.

There are many records of parrots which lived to be 80 years old and a few, less definitely proved, of birds reaching 100.

Gives Talk On Microwaves

M. W. Waggoner Is The Luncheon Speaker To Club

The Optimist club met Tuesday noon at the Bothwell hotel with M. W. Waggoner, public information supervisor of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company in St. Louis, as guest speaker.

Dr. H. O. Wilbur, president, presided.

Guests were Lee Peabody, Jr., Norma Feidler, Lawrence S. Ward and Oville O. Green.

Ed Ringen, program chairman, presented Z. L. Brown, district manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone office, who introduced the speaker.

Mr. Waggoner stated that the primary job of the telephone company is to provide means and facilities for electrical communications in whatever form the sender wishes. Most transmission is by wire or cable but radio is also used. He then gave the milestones in the development of radio in telephone business which he said is not new and told of one of the latest developments, Microwaves, which he demonstrated at the meeting.

'Boy Preacher Of The Ozarks'

LEBANON, Mo., Jan. 19—(P)—Tom McSpadden, 13, has been called by his friends the "boy preacher of the Ozarks."

Tom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. McSpadden of Lebanon, felt a call to preach last May 1 at a revival service conducted by the Rev. W. E. Dowell at the Tabernacle Baptist church here. He has had numerous speaking engagements, at Springfield and Aurora, Mo., as well as in Lebanon and rural churches in the area.

Now a freshman in Lebanon high school, he plans to complete his high school course and then enter a Bible seminary.

Tom does not write his sermons in advance. Instead, he makes a study of his subject in the Bible and then speaks extemporaneously as the spirit moves him.

Isaiah is one of his favorite books in the Bible. The book's prophecies about the coming of Christ especially interest him.

Seven Killed As Trucks Collide

COALINGA, Calif., Jan. 19—(P)—Seven persons were killed and four others injured Tuesday when two trucks collided at an intersection five miles east of Coalinga.

Police Patrolman Jack Carkington said one truck carried about 10 persons believed members of a family of Mexican cotton pickers.

The driver of the other truck was killed.

Confirmation By Senate To Dean Acheson

Vote Of Approval
As Secretary Of State 83-6

By Roger D. Greene

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(P)—Dean Acheson, 55-year-old lawyer-diplomat, won Senate confirmation as the new secretary of state by an overwhelming 83 to 6 vote Tuesday.

Before the vote Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) served notice that confirmation does not necessarily mean approval of future developments in administration foreign policy. He praised Acheson, but said President Truman's foreign policies may be "impromptu and unpredictable."

But chairman Connally (D-Tex.) chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, hailed the vote as a "ratification of our foreign policy of firmness and vigor." He called Acheson eminently qualified to handle the "gigantic" duties of the nation's No. 1 diplomatic post.

Acheson is expected to be sworn in Thursday or Friday as the fifth secretary of state the nation has had in five years. He succeeds Ailing Gen. George C. Marshall, who resigned following a serious operation.

Six Republicans cast the only votes against Acheson. They were Senators Bridges (NH), Capehart (Ind.), Jenner (Ind.), Knowland (Calif.), Langer (ND) and Wherry (Neb.).

Opposed By Wherry
Wherry told his colleagues he was going to vote against confirmation because, he said, "It is common knowledge that Mr. Acheson has been an appeaser of Russia."

Other Republicans who had been lukewarm toward President Truman's choice for the all-important diplomatic role had apparently changed their minds, however, in the light of Acheson's own testimony last week.

In public and secret sessions of the Senate foreign committee, Acheson had vigorously denied that he was an "appeaser" and had blasted Communism as "fatal" to a free society and to human rights.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), who is generally regarded as the Republican foreign policy spokesman, spoke out for Acheson but took occasion to make clear that he was giving no blanket endorsement to future handling of foreign affairs.

Vandenberg said he is convinced that Acheson will pursue "whatever policies are directed by the President of the United States." Then he told the Senate that it cannot—through action on an appointment—"control foreign policy."

"Therefore," he said, "It should be made wholly obvious that we do not underwrite results in terms of foreign policy which will flow from our confirmation of this or any other nominee."

Well Wishes By Governor Dewey

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(P)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey congratulated President Truman Tuesday on his forthcoming inauguration and wished him "good health and divine guidance."

The White House made public a telegram from Dewey, the defeated Republican presidential candidate, and the President's reply.

Dewey's message said: "My heartiest congratulations to you upon your inauguration as President of the United States. I join with all other Americans in wishing you good health and divine guidance in your every labor for the peace of the world and the welfare of the people of our country. Sincerely yours, Thomas E. Dewey."

Mr. Truman replied: "My dear Governor Dewey: I deeply appreciate your message of congratulations. Good wishes such as yours strengthen me for the tasks that lie ahead. My warmest thanks go to you for this renewed evidence of the firmness of the foundation on which our democracy rests. With all good wishes, sincerely yours, Harry S. Truman."

Warrant For Extradition

Acting Governor
Allison Grants it
On Dr. Rutledge

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 19.—(P)—Acting Gov. Emory W. Allison granted Iowa Tuesday the right to take Dr. Robert C. Rutledge for trial on a murder charge.

He issued a warrant extraditing the St. Louis doctor to face first degree murder charges at Cedar Rapids. Rutledge is accused of slaying his wife's alleged lover, Byron C. Hatman, in a Cedar Rapids hotel room Dec. 14.

Leo F. Laughren, Rutledge's lawyer, had no comment on the decision. It was reached after a three hour hearing.

Allison, president pro tem of the Missouri Senate, sat in the case as acting governor. Gov. Forrest Smith and Lt. Gov. James T. Blair, Jr., are in Washington for President Truman's inauguration. Today's decision represented a victory for Linn county attorney W. W. Crissman after an earlier reversal.

Was Earlier Denied
Former Gov. Phil M. Donnelly denied Iowa's first requisition for Rutledge on Jan. 6 on legal grounds. He said the information filed against Rutledge was not sufficient under federal extradition laws.

Crissman returned to Cedar Rapids and presented the case to a grand jury which returned an immediate indictment.

Laughren sought to raise other legal objections today but Allison set them aside without comment.

None of the principals in the case was present at Tuesday's hearing. No witnesses were called. Laughren said he did not wish to contest the question whether Rutledge was in Cedar Rapids at the time of the killing.

He based his argument solely on legal grounds, contending the extradition papers were not properly authenticated because Deputy Secretary of State Mildred R. Veatch had attested Iowa Gov. Robert D. Blue's signature.

Argue On Fugitive Warrant
To this Crissman replied that a deputy can perform such a ministerial duty without casting any doubt on the validity of the papers.

Laughren also argued that Rutledge's case is pending before the St. Louis court of criminal corrections on a fugitive warrant. He said the governor could not take away that court's jurisdiction.

"They can't come in here and ask the governor to destroy the jurisdiction of a court they have invoked," he said.

Crissman said the fugitive warrant was sought only to hold Rutledge within Missouri.

At one point the lawyers exchanged heated words.

Crissman said the fugitive warrant did not charge Rutledge with a crime in Missouri. Being a fugitive is not a crime because there is no penalty for it.

"Yes there is," Laughren said. "He can be thrown in the jug and kept there."

"That's probably what ought to be done if he killed someone," Crissman shot back.

Allison reprimanded them and asked them to continue with their legal arguments.
